Sacha & Jesse

Have you heard about a special young woman named Sacha and her pawfect Guide Dog Jesse?

Guide Dogs has been working with Sacha since she was just three years old. Sacha has touched the hearts of many of our staff.

Like her Mum, long-term Guide Dogs Client Alison, Sacha is legally blind. A determined little girl, Sacha learnt to use a white cane when she was just four years old.

“Even when I was little I wanted to do things on my own. With the help of Guide Dogs, I learnt to use a white cane when I was four, then when I was older I learnt to travel independently using public transport,” Sacha explains.

Now, Sacha is all grown up and is more determined than ever. Like many 21-year-olds, Sacha is beginning the next stage of her life. She is currently at University, studying a double degree in Media and Computer Science with a major in Japanese.

“Growing up, Mum has always had a Guide Dog, so I always kind of knew I’d be matched with my own dog one day,” says Sacha.

“Being matched with my own Guide Dog was an incredible feeling – it’s so freeing.”

“I can’t wait to be able to travel freely through the city. I’ll be able to explore new areas and take new routes, knowing I can trust Jesse.

“I’ll be able to walk through Rundle Mall, even on a busy day, which is something I’d never have contemplated before.”

“I’m so looking forward to agreeing to meet friends at whatever location they suggest – and not have to ask them to always meet at a place I know well. That’s huge.”

Sacha has spent several weeks working closely with Guide Dogs Mobility Instructor, Patrick.

“From their first trial walk, it was clear Sacha and Jesse were a team. Sacha is smart, ambitious and a brisk walker. Jesse is the perfect dog for her!” says Patrick, Guide Dogs Mobility Instructor.

Jesse appears to be the perfect match for Sacha.

“I describe her as a tiny pocket rocket! She’s a great match for me – we’re both very fast walkers.”

Thanks to the support of people like you, Sacha is able to look forward to the future with Jesse by her side with confidence.

“A Guide Dog will give me the confidence to take on life’s challenges and spend more time out and about doing what I want to do.”
